NEW LIGHT DAWNS UPON ONTARIO FARMERS

Ontario farmers, inaugurating a United Farmers' association for that province, find that when it comes to establishing a co-operative marketing and purchasing branch in connection therewith there is lacking the necessary legislation to permit them to organize their business in a manner which will be of any tangible benefit to them.

The failure to provide this legislation necessary to the establishment of farmers' co-operative buying and selling associations lies, so the Ontario farmers appear to believe, at the door of the dominion government, which has more than once been asked for such laws as will permit farmers in any part of the dominion to establish themselves as co-operative associations in about the same way that mechanics form themselves into trades unions. But for reasons which will be clearly understood by those who appreciate the relationships which exist between the government at Ottawa and the various manufacturers' associations, wholesale and retail guilds and the commission interests, the legislation has never passed.

Alberta and Saskatchewan farmers met this very same obstacle when they set out to establish co-operative elevators and other similar co-operative enterprises. But their way out was so simple that the significance of the failure of the dominion legislation never occurred to them with full force. They merely turned to the provincial governments, which not only gave the necessary legislation, but in the case of the creameries, supplied all the capital, took all the risk and guaranteed the management, and in the case of the elevators, guaranteed 85 per cent of the capital.

Ontario farmers are in no such fortunate position. With a conservative government in power at Ottawa and another conservative government in power at Toronto, they have nowhere to turn for a sympathetic hearing to their demands for the legislation which will help them to help themselves through co-operation.

When Ontario farmers thoroughly grasp the import of this fact, there will be no more conservative governments, either at Toronto or in Ottawa.

HOW ABOUT THE LESSON TO SOCIETY?

"Whitely Lewis" was only twelve years old when he came with his parents to this continent from Poland. They were poor and they were Jews and the Jewish longing for freedom was what brought them from a land of oppression to the new world. Instead of the land of liberty which they sought they found themselves in the tenement district in New York's east side, the most crowded plot in the world. Street life was the only life the boy had a chance to know, and in the streets were criminals. At 16 he was arrested for petty larceny and sent to the reformatory. He was paroled and turned back into the streets. Twice again he was sentenced for similar offences, served his term and was turned back into the streets. Then he joined the army, slashed a man who taunted him because he was a Jew, was imprisoned—dishonorably discharged—and turned back into the streets. Big Jack Zelig, the leader of the gun men in New York, met him one year before the Rosenthal murder.

For the killing of Rosenthal, "Whitely Lewis" and three other gun men whose antecedents and environment were much the same have been legally put to death; and their execution is supposed to teach a lesson to other budding criminals.

But the tenements are still there, and the streets, and millions more quite as impressionable as "Whitely Lewis" was at 12 are coming from Poland or elsewhere to receive their education in the surroundings which society afforded the gun men.

How about the lesson to society?

ARMORIES, BATTLESHIPS AND INDUSTRIES

While Sam Hughes is building armories all over the dominion and while Robert Laird Borden is still insisting that the dominion should hand over thirty-five million for the construction of battleships, what has happened to the scheme started by the Laurier government to improve the navigation of the Saskatchewan?

On the Ohio river, a stream no more susceptible to navigation than the Saskatchewan, it has improved only slightly, millions and millions of tons of merchandise are forwarded every year which carry the fact down stream from the mines to consumers. The cost of freight is so cheap that the railways have given up trying to compete.

Edmonton, at the head of navigation on the Saskatchewan, is situated on the edge of the largest lignite field on the continent. Below there are no fuel deposits, but there are plenty of potential customers and the number is increasing every year. It took an order from the railway commissioners reducing freight to get a rate from the railways which will let Edmonton lignite into Saskatoon. But with proper navigation, Edmonton lignite should go to Winnipeg. However, armories and battleships are of more importance in the eyes of the government which sits at Ottawa than the development of an industry.

GLASGOW'S MOST VALUABLE ASSET

The Glasgow municipally-owned street railway carried last year the amazing total of three hundred and forty million passengers on a system which operates a string of cars that, placed end to end, would stretch five miles along the track. Its rails cover ninety-nine miles of streets, its receipts are more than five million dollars a year, it has turned over to the common good fund of the city surpluses totalling more than two million and a half, it employs 5,700 persons, pays good wages and gives cheaper fares than any privately-owned street railway system in the world. The entire cost of the system, capital, depreciation, operating expense and every other expense has been met out of the receipts and plans at present in hand contemplate the extension of the system so as to enlarge the boundaries of the territory in which employees of factories, shipyards and offices may live and conveniently reach their work by more than double.

Municipal ownership of street railways may be considered an experiment in some cities, but not in Glasgow. In the Scotch metropolis it has long since passed that stage. It is a gigantic success. Glasgow people count the street railway and its franchise as the city's most valuable asset.

WHEN OPPOSITION BECOMES NEGLIGIBLE

New Brunswick, on the east coast, and British Columbia, on the west coast, have legislatures in which all the members but two are with the government.

McBride's feeling of security engendered by this overwhelming majority led him into the scandalous happenings of the Nanaimo strike, where, because the government refused to enforce its own regulations for the safety of the men, the miners went on strike. The episode is not yet closed, and probably will not be until the McBride government is thrown out. But in its development the miners were dragoned and policed and jailed in a manner which would have put the Russian Grand Dukes to shame, while the mines are still working in defiance of the safety regulations.

Fleming's feeling of security, if the charges made against him prove to be true, will undoubtedly finish his government also. The charges are that he forced tribute from the owners of large timber limits to the extent of $100,000, and that in the construction of a railway guaranteed by the government, contractors were compelled to pay tribute as a consideration for the securing of contracts.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

Major-general T. Bland Strange, at the head of an army of 600 men, composed chiefly of the sixty-fifth Battalion and the Winnipeg Provisional Battalion, with a few mounted police and scouts, left Calgary 25 years ago today to march to Edmonton, as a part of the military movement for the suppression of the Red rebellion. Gen. Strange was an officer of long experience who had spent many years in military organization work in the Dominion. Strange's army was the last of the three columns to begin its march, Middleton's column had spent nine days on the march from Swift Current to Battleford. Strange's division covered the 195 miles from Battleford and Edmonton in 11 days, reaching the latter settlement on May 6th. No difficulties of moment were encountered on the way, other than the obstacles of nature, and the troops were given a rousing reception by the people of the country. The country around only carried away and destroyed property, burned houses and assaulted women, but had also killed a number of soldiers. At Frog Lake nine men, among two priests, were slain, while the women had been carried away to a captivity of death. The Frog Lake settlement was distant about 200 miles from Edmonton, and Thursday morning there was a smallarrison of mounted police under Inspector Dickins. The fate of the police was unknown, and Gen. Strange decided to go for their rescue, and also to seek revenge for the murdered settlers. Arrived at Frog Lake, it was found deserted and it was later learned that Dickins and his men, after a long resistance, had been killed and the settlement had been carried away to Battleford. At the approach of the army Big Bear occupied an impregnable position at Frenchman's butte, and Gen. Strange reinforced at Fort Pitt Big Bear managed to evade the pursuit, but later voluntarily surrendered.

Important as it is to attend the opening performance of the royal academy and private view and dinner still continue to be the great functions of the season. It is a sublime recognition of the power of the Fourth Estate that the "Treasures" given the first glimpse of the new paintings comprising the Royal Academy's annual exhibition. Even royal duty has to be content with second place. On the Wednesday preceding the private view on Saturday the gentlemen of the press also had their place. On the Thursday following the members of the royal family had possession of the exhibition. Then comes the Royal Academy dinner, at which custom prescribes that the members of the cabinet must be represented, and from which the fair sex is excluded. The "private view" is accurately described, except that it is not private and the crush is so great that it is almost impossible to begin the picture. Everybody who is anybody must go, however, and those Americans who are not in London for the first time that day of fate may as well return home and try to forget. True, they may visit the gallery, but the works of art in a leisurely and comfortable manner—but who wants to do that? The London season, as an institution, was established by George III, but as we have other things to do, the monarch did not show good judgment, and started the season in January. When Queen Victoria came to the throne she inaugurated the metropolitan season in February, but later she changed the date to about the first of May. The season of the year, the London season had to get along without royal participation, but despite this handicap it has become of great importance. It is the harvest season for the hotels and the merchants of the city, and the streets and the city.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

London Season Opens Tonight
 When Queen Victoria came to the throne she inaugurated the metropolitan season in February, but later she changed the date to about the first of May. The season of the year, the London season had to get along without royal participation, but despite this handicap it has become of great importance. It is the harvest season for the hotels and the merchants of the city, and the streets and the city.

To those citizens and citizens of the North American continent whose inclinations or finances do not permit of an annual jaunt to Europe, the phrase "the London season" means little or nothing. To a vast and constantly increasing number of Americans, however, the London season is everything. Participation in the functions and activities that mark the "season" in the world's metropolis not only insures social success, but it is the first and foremost step toward the heights occupied by the elect of society with a large S. Wherefore London is the goal of many a millionaire from all over this continent, and some are very happy today and some are wallowing in the sloughs of misery, the result of misadventure depending upon whether or not they have been fortunate. The first white man to penetrate into the interior of what is now the Dominion of Canada was a Frenchman, a Breton mariner, who sailed on a first voyage to the New World, with two small ships and 120 men, from St. Malo 249 years ago today. Cartier passed along the shores of Newfoundland and Prince Edward Island and landed on the shores of the Gulf of St. Lawrence, where he was welcomed by friendly Indians. Later he set up a cross on the Gaspé shore and, sailing past the entrance to the St. Lawrence, returned to France. On his second voyage in 1535 he sailed up the St. Lawrence to the site of Quebec and Montreal, then occupied by Indian settlements. After a winter of terrible suffering, during which many of the adventures died, Cartier returned home taking with him "King" Donnacona and nine chiefs as trophies. This treachery turned the Indians against the whites, and the Indians, destined never to see their native land again, left a legacy of woe to the future French settlers in Canada. Cartier made a third voyage to Canada in 1541, but by that time he was utterly weary of adventuring and soon returned home to die in peace.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

75th Birthday of King Charles I. of Rumania.
 Rumania's rise from a position of slavish subjection to Turkey to a free and independent nation, the most progressive and enlightened of the Balkan states, has been accomplished during the reign of one monarch, Charles, who was born a Prince of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen just three-quarters of a century ago today. April 20, 1859, he was elected prince or hospodar of Rumania by a plebiscite on April 20, 1859, his 25th birthday, and was crowned king in 1881.

The territory of Rumania, recently increased by a conquest of a valuable stretch of country from Bulgaria, comprises the old Danubian principalities of Wallachia and Moldavia, of which the capitals were Bucharest, now the seat of government of the kingdom, and Jassy, respectively. These provinces formed a part of the ancient Dacia, a Roman province which was subdued by Trajan in 106. In the following century Dacia was abandoned to the Goths, and subsequently it was successively occupied by the Huns, the Scythians, and the Bulgarians, and by the Magyars and the Turks. Russia annexed a part of the territory in a century ago, and in 1821 Wallachia and Moldavia were placed under the protection of the Czar, although still Turkish territory. In 1854 the Russians quit the provinces, but the Austrians entered and remained until the government of the principalities was settled at a Paris conference, whereby there were to be two princes or hospodars, chosen by elective assemblies, and the sovereignty of Turkey was to be preserved. Alexander Couza was elected hospodar of the provinces. The union of the provinces under the name of Rumania was proclaimed and acknowledged by the emperor in 1859. Five years later a revolution forced the abdication of Prince Couza. The provisional government offered the crown to the Count of Flinders, father of the present king of Belgium, but he refused it, as he later renounced his rights to the Belgian succession.

Prince Charles of Hohenzollern-Sigmaringen was elected hospodar in 1866, and he arrived in Bucharest was received by enthusiastic demonstrations. Later in the same year he was recognized by the Porte and Russia at Constantinople. In 1869 Prince Charles married Princess Pauline Elisabeth of Oldenburg, the daughter of a king and a charming woman who was destined to occupy the Rumanian throne as queen Elizabeth, and to win worldwide fame as a writer under the pen name of Carmen Sylva.

In 1877, with the powerful aid of Russia, Rumania began her war for freedom from the Turkish yoke, and in 1878 was declared independent. The nation and prince were crowned in 1881. The "father of his country," as the Rumanians call King Charles, had his arrival in Bucharest was received by enthusiastic demonstrations. The Cardinal, who is the head of a diocese with a Catholic population of nearly a million and a quarter, has completed plans for a pilgrimage to Rome, and will sail for the Eternal City. Through the assistance of an uncle who had emigrated to America, he was educated at the universities of N. Y., and Rome, and ordained in 1870.

Mobilization Caused by Mistake
 Demonstrates Preparedness.

Paris, April 20.—A mobilization of French troops of the Montebell district at Belfort, although caused by a mistake, has served to demonstrate French preparedness along the frontier. The mobilizing resembles on a smaller scale that of Arras more than a year ago. Early this week a certain number of reservists of the Montebell district received mobilization orders on paper headed "Ministry of War," enjoining upon them to report immediately and without delay. The reservists started and began to pour into Belfort from 9 o'clock on, and by midnight all those who had received mobilization orders had arrived and were awaiting further orders.

As no information as to the mobilization had reached Belfort the reservists were sent back to their homes. An inquiry was opened and it was discovered that the false alarm was due, not in the case of the French, to the error of a postal employee, who had by inadvertence opened a package intended for the military administration.

Socialists and Clericals Accuse Government for Perpetuating It in Africa.
GOVERNMENT MADE DENIAL
 Opposes Direct Emancipation, Declaring It Would Ruin Many Planters.

Berlin, April 20.—A brief, defending slavery for the colonies, declaring that its immediate abolition would lead to rising prices, is handed in by the government of German East Africa, to the Reichstag. In response to a resolution passed by the Reichstag last year, calling for the termination of household slavery by January 1, 1920, Dr. Schmeelke has reported that there are about 15,000 slaves in the colony at present, many of them captives in wars as late as 1905 and 1906, while others are being imported even today from Portuguese East Africa and British Cape Colony. But the number is steadily growing.

A law passed a few years ago liberates all children of household slaves after 1910; deaths are further reducing the number of slaves; many are able to buy their liberty for 100 marks, or 10 to 15, and in addition many owners are voluntarily giving their slaves freedom.

The government claims that slavery practically will have ceased to exist without further restrictive measures by 1910, and that the colonies are further reducing the number of slaves; many are able to buy their liberty for 100 marks, or 10 to 15, and in addition many owners are voluntarily giving their slaves freedom.

The governor uses arguments that he has failed to liberate more than sixty years ago. He says that the negro by no means feels the lack of personal liberty as a hardship, that among the native farmers and coast the government at least $2,000,000 to indemnify owners for the loss of their property.

In discussion of the report in the budget committee of the Reichstag the governor's arguments were sharply criticized. He stated that the government, behind which, they asserted, was the white civilization, the cessation of the slave trade, the abolition of slavery, seeking a cheap supply of labor. Advertisements from colonial newspapers were sent back to the colonies, and the governor was favoring and even promising the practice, and a colonial leader alleged that German planters organize regular man hunts to get labor for their plantations.

Dr. Solz, secretary of state for the colonies, admitted that the law had been interpreted in a way that was not intended, and that the government was receding of native labor for plantations, and that grave infringements of the law had been committed. He declared that the government was receding of native labor for plantations, and that grave infringements of the law had been committed. ## Both Mexican Forces Are Finely Equipped In Case Of Invasion

Washington, April 20.—In case the United States army invaded Mexico, it will have to cope with approximately 125,000 men, under the direction of Huerta and Carranza.

Huerta and Carranza both will oppose invasion by an American army, it is feared that such invasion would force them into concerted action against the common foe.

Huerta's forces are estimated by the war department at 85,000 men and 200 pieces of artillery. He now has 65,000 men in the field.

Carranza has about 40,000 men under various generals on the Pacific coast, 30,000 with 20 pieces. Villa has 12,000 men with 60 pieces; the younger Carranza and Gonzales have 8,000 men and 20 guns; and scattering companies probably would swell the force to 90,000.

In addition to the federalists and constitutionalists, Zapata, south of the Mexico City has a force of about 10,000 armed with rifles. He has no field guns.

Huerta's army is well trained, well equipped and ready for stubborn fighting. Huerta has experienced generals in Velasco who is now campaigning against Villa, the two Maases, Maure and Blanes. The last named is minister of war and has immediate charge of the defense of Mexico city.

Huerta has abundance of horses and ammunition for his men and plenty of ammunition for his 200 field guns.

Of the constitutionalists, Obregon is the only one with a really efficient force. He has sufficient ammunition for his men and plenty for his field pieces to operate for a number of months without further supplies. Also his men are well drilled. Villa has only a limited supply of horses and practically none for his 60 field pieces. The latter are of many calibres and he has found it impossible to assemble ammunition enough to keep them in action.

The younger Carranza and Gonzales have practically no ammunition of any state of Mexico. These lands probably would harass an invading force to some extent, but there is little likelihood of their merging. If likelihood should be ordered following the proposed blockade of the ports, it is believed that Mexico City again will be the goal of American troops, as in the former war with Mexico.

Vera Cruz undoubtedly would be the starting point. The Atlantic fleet would be able to make a landing there possible. Also it could give sufficient protection to the army until the latter is ready to move on.

There are two routes from Vera Cruz to Mexico City. One is the Jalapa route taken by General Scott in his advance to the former war. The other is the Orizaba route, used by the French when Maximilian invaded Mexico.

The Jalapa route has a narrow gauge railway from Vera Cruz to Mexico City. The distance is approximately 300 miles. The Orizaba route will be a standard gauge railway and is 250 miles long. There is only a small force of federalists in Vera Cruz today under Gen. Maas.

CANADA'S FINANCIAL POSITION CONSIDERED BETTER THAN IT WAS

London, April 20.—The Observer's financial editor says that while the new city of Montreal debentures issue was not very well received, it went better than was expected. "There is little doubt," says the Observer, "that the Canadian position is better than it was. The he has been better by various loans, been able to replace his advance to municipal and other bodies. The situation is now viewed, and a good harvest is now wanted. Then we may see the end of the relative depression in Canada's markets. Canada will want much more money and has a reasonable claim on the investor's purse, but while Canada's position was complicated by over-lending it was impossible for any impartiality on the part of those who knew the facts."

KILLS TWO CHILDREN WITH AN AXE AND HE THEN ENDS OWN LIFE

New Castle, N.D., April 20.—A double murder and suicide occurred at Protectionville, nine miles from here, Saturday night. Stark Sobey, a man of 23, had been in New Castle drinking, and rode to the home of Nell Mullin. Mullin was stable in her home. Sobey seized an axe and hacked to pieces two little boys of Mullin's, aged 7 and 8. He then turned the axe on himself, and a small child for life, and the man, going to the kitchen, took a knife and, although wounded in the shoulder, slashed with his assistant until he fell unconscious. He was found in his cabin, dead, with a bullet wound through his head.

"A NIGHT IN PARIS" PANTOMIME SKETCH PANTAGES FEATURE

"A Night in Paris" is the title of a startling pantomime which Mrs. Amey and her company of ten will present on the new bill, at Pantages, starting today. The act is an unusual one depicting the life of the Apaches in the great Montmartre district of Paris and unfolds a fascinating story of the great French city's nether world. It deals with a notorious woman criminal who, because of her husk of glorious hair, was known as "Casque d'Or" (golden helmet). The plot, which will be told in pantomime, is woven around the adventures of a French court which endeavor to win the love of the golden-haired siren. The various places he visits will be depicted and some of the mannerisms and characteristics of the Apaches shown. One of the outstanding features of the act will be the presentation for the first time in America of the sensational dance du Can-can, the dancer of the Apaches. Several of the popular later day dances will be included in the programme.

REMARKABLE PICTURES SHOWN BY EVANS TAKEN ON SCOTT EXPEDITION

Commander Evans story of the tragic Scott expedition which his himself is to tell when he lectures at the Empire auditorium on April 22 when he visits Edmonton en route to the coast, is in itself almost all that one would expect to see in an expedition that had such adventures as that headed by Captain Scott. But it is more than a story, for he brings with him photographs made the party during all its triumphs and trials. Captain Scott himself was an excellent photographer and with him he took Herbert G. Ponting, F.R.G.S., the foremost camera man England has produced.

It was these two men who made the beautiful pictorial record Commander Evans will show. Mr. Ponting was enabled by his great skill to eliminate the usual icy look from all his pictures. He took by flashlight. In the long winter night so as to avoid the strong glare of the six months' sun. Yet by day or by night, he was ever present to have his record complete. Never did his patience weary when photographing the "penguins" or the seals. Whether for motion picture or for still, he was always ready. Yet he could not go everywhere, especially on the Polar dash, and then Captain Scott did the photographic work. Even to the end he did not fail. When the bodies of the polar party were finally found, there with the scientific specimens were the negatives of the polar dash, which when developed completed the story. Such are the pictures Commander Evans came to supplement his story. Never before have any of them been seen in Western Canada. Both motion and still pictures come for the first time with Commander Evans.

The seat sale for the lectures on Thursday is now open at the Mason & Nich piano store.

ORPHEUM ROAD SHOW HEADED BY BESSIE WYNN AT EMPIRE

"Chic, Chic" is the name of a song Miss Bessie Wynn, headliner with the Orpheum road show at the Empire theatre the first half of this week will sing. The song describes this graceful little lady of vaudeville to perfection. Her voice, her grace, her personality, is just description; let but be only small details of her success. Her beauty, grace, vivacity and willingness to oblige with encore and much to the pleasure of her performance. She has a remarkable range and no matter what she sings it is done with ease as to be beyond comparison with anything usually heard on the variety stage.

Robert T. Haines and company in "The Man in the Dark" is also headlining. His playlet is something different from the ordinary sketch, and is well worth seeing. Mr. Haines is a strong dramatic actor and his supporting cast, Esther Van Eynde, Miss Fenton and Charles Wynne, are finished performers and handle their parts well.

Al Shayne, as the Jewish comedian with Matthews, Shayne and company, in "Dreamland," is exceedingly clever, as is also Bob Matthews, who plays the role of a dope fiend. The playlet in which they appear is called an imagination in three scenes.

AL SHAYNE.

It has been said that the Aerial Lloyds, horizontal bar artists, doing the program this week, are the best in their line. However this may be, they are without doubt remarkable.

Le Barb is one of those imitable entertainers whose performance defies classification. His material is all new and he knows how to get it over the footlights, his impersonations being some of his kind.

Bernard Wheeler and Sophie Wilson offer what they choose to call "A Stitch in Musical Comedy," and Oterita, a Spanish dancer, will conclude the program.

SPLENDID SERIES IS SECURED BY MONARCH THEATRE

A very interesting animal picture will be shown at the Monarch Monday and Tuesday, entitled "From the Lion's Jaw."

For Wednesday only there will be a double feature, "The Man Between," a two-part drama with the popular Warren Kerrigan, and the Oxford-Cambridge boat race picture. This picture shows the recent race where Cambridge won for the first time in years. The exciting finish is shown in fine fashion and is very exciting.

For Thursday only there will be a feature worthy of note in the Famous Players' feature, "Pride of Jenico," in four parts. This production is presented by the world's greatest theatrical promoter, Daniel Frohman. On account of a new arrangement with the Famous Players' Film company this production and also other following will be shown for the regular picture, afternoon 5c and 10c; nights 10c and 15c.

"The Pride of Jenico," which is one of the most delightful film dramas yet brought to Edmonton, opens a two-days' run at the Monarch Friday and Saturday.

It is a romance of the brightest type, full of spirited action. "The Pride of Jenico" has its setting, generally, among the many old principalities of central Europe. There a young prince abandons the shelter of his uncle's castle when he endeavors to force her into a very distasteful marriage.

A broken down coach and a storm force her and her maid to seek shelter at Jenico castle, where the princess introduces her maid as the princess, while she becomes maid to the real maid. But the princess wins the love of the prince, who has sworn on the sword of his predecessor to uphold the pride of Jenico and not marry her.

So Jenico decides to forego his real love and marry the princess (the real maid). The princess, however, by substituting herself at the altar for the pseudo princess, Jenico is brought to his true station. Her second husband reconciles himself in the belief that love is greater than pride, and the prince to whom he appears on the scene and spirits her off to her uncle's house, where she is held captive.

Jenico follows, and after a series of skirmishes and thrilling battles with the villainous prince and his more villainous followers, finds his wife a captive in a mountain stronghold. Here a reunion takes place, and Jenico finds that he was indeed married to the genuine princess and the woman he loved.

The details of the play are carefully worked out, forming a most absorbing and interesting one, admirably adapted to the films. The acting of the play is carried out with virility and a degree of realism that is wholly pleasing. "The Pride of Jenico" will be seen Friday and Saturday at the Monarch.

"MARY JANE'S PA" IS BILL OF FARE AT LYCEUM THEATRE

Edith Ellis' sparkling rural comedy drama, "Mary Jane's Pa," comes to the Lyceum theatre tonight for an engagement of one week, including matinees Wednesday and Saturday. With Henry E. Dixey and Max Fleisher in the chief male roles, this play secured a remarkable success throughout America a few seasons ago, and since being released for use by stock companies it has lived up to its reputation of being "the most successful four acts of cheer" shown to the public in many seasons.

One of the unusual features of "Mary Jane's Pa" is the "prop" printing press, which plays an important part in the development of the plot. The Lyceum stage crew has managed to preserve a certain realism in building this press that will be easily recognized by audiences who see the Ellis play.

There are several rural characters and "types" that will provoke laughter and make an evening spent at the Lyceum this week well worth while.

Interrupted by Suffragettes. London, April 20.—Suffragettes yesterday interrupted the service held at St. Margaret's, Westminster, to celebrate the tercentenary of the recognition of this church as the official place of worship for the month of the house of commons. The church officials ignored the women and the demonstration subsided. Speaker Lowther and many members of the house were present.

BARBARIANS HELD FAST RUGBY GAME

Teams Chosen From Club De-light Large Crowd British Rugby Fans

On Saturday afternoon The Barbarians football club held the first of their schedule games. Although the match was not with another club but between sides chosen by the captain, J. A. Shaw and the vice-captain, S. M. Tate, keen interest was shown and with three to four hundred spectators present, along with ideal weather conditions and a perfect footing underneath, all contributed to a most successful and enjoyable game.

Tate kicked off for the vice-captain team against a strong wind and Shirley fielding returned a long kick to touch, gaining much ground. For some time play was even and the game kept at midfield. From a scrum Kelly secured the ball and passed to Shaw who cleverly outwitted a number of opponents and let his three-quarters away in which a splendid passing movement was made, all the three-quarters handled and Rowden crossing the line opened the scoring.

From this time on until half time the captain's side had much the better of the game. The forwards were getting more of the ball and the halves were feeding the backs in splendid style. Shaw, Kelly, Rowden, and Drummond were often prominent.

After the interval it was easily seen what an important factor the wind had played in the game, for the Vice-captain's forwards more than held their own, and only the stubborn defence of the opposition prevented scores on two occasions.

Laird Kelly inaugurated another movement and Shaw, Starley and Chadwick handled the latter finally passing to Kelly who scrambled over at the corner.

Prominent amongst the forwards special mention should be made of Tate, Spooner, Virtue, Young, Collins and Chudler.

Bailey and Dykes of the Eskimos turned out and showed great usefulness especially in the forward ranks. Final result—Captains' side—4 tries (12 points).

Vice-Captains' side—1 try (three points). The game was refereed by Balfour S. Walton, the secretary of the club, and the selection committee were present in full force.

Teams.
Captain—Full back, Herring; three-quarters, Drummond, Rowden, Starley, Dewar; half backs, Kelly, Shaw; forwards, Young, Harris, Kitchen, Shanley, Collins, Chudler, Bailey, Dykes.
Vice-Captain—Full back, Jones; three-quarters, Chadwick, Hooke, Poole, Barrow; half backs, Williams, Straughton; forwards, Tate, Spooner, Pike, Gibson, Virtue, Matthew, Bain, Aston.

Baseball Meeting.
There will be an important meeting of the City Baseball league tonight at eight o'clock in the Y.M.C.A.

According to the latest dope the weather is the cause of the St. Louis team being such jokers, that they cannot play real ball with limp collars and mused shirts. Of course, we thought that the lack of ball players was the cause, but Old Sol has been blamed for so much that can father this claim.

ZBYSKO IN ROUGH WRESTLING MATCH SATURDAY

Quebec, April 20.—Stanislaus Zbyisko the Polish champion wrestler, failed to make good his claim that he would down Raymond Casseau three times within an hour in their match at the auditorium Saturday. Although the Pole had the better of the argument at all times, he only managed to down his opponent twice in the sixty minutes.

winning the first fall on a foul in 4 minutes and 40 seconds, and the second in nine minutes and ten seconds. A record crowd attended the bout and among them were a number from Montreal. The Frenchman lived up to his reputation as being about the toughest grappler in the game, but he never had Zbyisko in serious danger.

"SMOKEY" MAKES WORLD'S RECORD GUN CLUB HOLD WEEKLY SHOOT

In High Jump for Horses Under 15 Hands—Jumps Seven Feet.

Calgary, April 20.—"Smockey," the 17 year old cow pony established a world's record for horses under 15 hands when he jumped an even seven feet at the Calgary horse show on Saturday night. He was ridden by Percy Swetell. Smockey excelled his former record made in Edmonton last week by two inches. The most spectacular performance of the show took place when E. C. Lowe's "Blenheim," with Tom McCall up, cleared seven feet, four inches, one inch better than the Pacific coast record made in Vancouver by T. J. Smith's "Credentialed." The War and Sky-scaper of the Sifton string ridden by Jack Hamilton equaled Blenheim's performance in the open high jump, the first prize going to The Warp on points, second and third money being divided between Blenheim and Sky-scaper.

RADIALS LOSE TO SONS OF ENGLAND IN CLOSE GAME

The Sons of England football team added another win to their list on Saturday by defeating the senior Radials team 2 to 0. On Good Friday the S.O.E. trimmed the senior Callies, and are apparently in a fair way to set a fast pace in the city football league. Saturday's game was played at Diamond park, following the Callies-Sons of Scotland game. Coward and Ocken were responsible for the scores. Following is the line-up:

Sons of England—Goal, Manley; backs, Aston and Gillespie; half backs, Collins, Christie and Eastham; forwards, Hiddleston, Ockenken, Green, Wolf, Coward and Hawline.

Radials—Goal, Smith; backs, Barker and McPherson; half backs, McCafferty, Cliberry and Hutton; forwards, Ormsby, Gladwin, Towler, Sall and Wilkie.

Referee, Tom Foster.

VARSITY RUGBY WILL BE STRONG

Much Good Material for Teams—Will Have Best Athletic Field in West.

If early season appearances count for anything, the University of Alberta rugby team should this year be one of the best in the province. Nearly all of last season's players will be available again this fall, and there will be in the neighborhood of seventy-five players from which to choose senior, intermediate and junior teams. Arrangements are being made for a paid coach and trainer and preliminary training will commence two weeks before the opening of the university term next fall, and the prospects are indeed good for a championship team.

Perhaps the most welcome news to Varsity athletes and Edmonton at large is the fact that Varsity will this year be supplied with one of the best athletic fields in western Canada. Plans have been under way for some time and the contract has been let for the work, which will start immediately.

The grounds, which will be located near the dormitory buildings, will be enclosed and sodded. A large grandstand and a well built and a self-registering ticket gate will be in use at the entrance. A quarter mile cinder track will be laid and the rugby stadium in the center. When it is completed it will be perhaps the best athletic field in western Canada.

On Thursday of last week the university held its election of officers for the rugby team this year. Following are the officers:

Senior captain, Ernie Parsons; president, R. Cascedoni; manager, E. C. Annis; treasurer, C. A. Buck; secretary, H. Beacott. Mr. Annis, who was elected manager for the season, also said that he had been elected and proved the right man in the right place, and his appointment to the management again this year speaks well for the prospects of the Varsity team during the fall schedule.

AMATEUR BOXING CHAMPIONS FOR 1914 DECIDED

Boston, April 20.—Canada won a championship and lost another at the national amateur boxing championship tournament which closed here Saturday night.

W. Hanna of Toronto took the 175-pound honors to Canada by winning a hard bout with Arthur Sheridan of Trinity club, Brooklyn, half an hour after he had been defeated by Sheridan in a semi-final extra round bout of the heavyweight class. Sheridan's eyes were closed and Hanna forced him to quit in the second round of the 175-pound class final. Sheridan then went into the final of the heavyweight class with this handicap, and weakened by three hard previous bouts, was again beaten after a slam bang contest by Patrick Kelly of Boston.

W. Kitchen of Toronto, last year's winner in the 125 pound class, was championed in the semi-finals: The champions of 1914 are: 101 pound class, Johnny Downs, Cleveland.

115 pound class—Steve Phillips, Boston.

125 pound class—Vincent Pokouti, Cleveland.

145 pound class—Dick Stoch, Cleveland.

165 pound class—Max Wolman, Cleveland.

185 pound class—W. Barrett, New York.

NEWS OF WESTERN CANADA LEAGUE: SEASON OPENS HERE MAY 4th

Four umpires have been engaged to act on the Western Canada league this year, there as regulars and a spare man in case anything should go wrong with one of the regulars. They are Joseph J. Becker, J. Becker, of Chicago; T. G. Nelson, of Minneapolis and Guy Colegate, of Chicago, each of whom has had from three to five years' experience and is highly recommended by those for whom they have previously worked as well as having finished each season which they started. The records of all these men will be printed and supplied to all papers on the circuit. The spare man is Wallace Wheeler of Leithbridge, probably you have heard of him.

President James Flemming is a great boost for Medicine Hat as a natural training place for ball teams. He claims that they have a wonderful drying ground which enables them to play games within a short time of even the heaviest rain, that it is possible to play baseball all through the month of April and would make a splendid reporting place for all the clubs on the circuit to train there. So much for the east town, but what about Edmonton as a training ground.

We have more sunshine to the square inch in Edmonton than any other town on the circuit and as for rain, we haven't seen any yet. And besides that, the teams would be training in a live city where they would be able to enjoy themselves when not playing ball.

Saskatoon has a new ball field this year which if reports are true is far ahead of anything on the western Canada circuit or even in Winnipeg, or Vancouver. President Flemming says "There is nothing like it," so it must be some ball park and naturally the question arises, "when will Edmonton fall in line and have a ball park which can hold 'there's nothing like it'." However, as it is, old Diamond park isn't so bad after all, and is one of the best on the circuit, and that certainly is the most located.

The chief executive of the Western Canada league is making a tour of the cities on the circuit and expresses himself as being highly pleased with the outlook everywhere. The people he says are showing wonderful enthusiasm and the teams are strengthening up so he looks for a banner season. President Flemming says it is possible that the money stringency may effect attendance a little, but he is optimistic enough to believe that the fans will find money for baseball. Moose Jaw, the one city on the circuit that has had difficulty in financing its team, is now alright. President Clark of the Moose Jaw club says that everything is now in good shape and there is no need to worry. Jack Kelly, first secretary of the W. C. L., was sent to Moose Jaw to help them organize and get going properly. In this he has been successful.

The Regina Red Sox seemed to have had about the most successful training trip of any of the W. C. L. teams, that is in point of wins over other teams. The Regina outfit, led by Manager Charlie Stis, took all three games from the Burlington, Iowa team, a fourth game being called off owing to abusive tactics shown by the Iowa nine. The results of these games indicate that either Charlie Stis has gathered a formidable aggregation together or else the class of ball played at Burlington, Iowa, is decidedly below W. C. L. calibre. The Red Sox, however, met defeat in their next game at Muscatine, Iowa, by 5 to 4. It was their last game until last man out.

In Seattle the opinion prevails, after the Edmonton Eskimos and Saskatoon Quakers have been seen in action there, that there is little to choose between the two teams and that if the other clubs in the Western Canada league circuit are of the same calibre, the fans of Western Canada should see some real high class ball this summer. The Hurleyites also made a good impression in Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., and the coast players spoke well of their class as a ball team. The Quakers are a fast aggregation of youngsters, with just about everything they need to be found in higher company except experience, and Bill Hurley, their estate manager, provides plenty of that, so that altogether they will be no mean opponents for the Eskimos here on opening day, May 4.

All in all, it is beginning to look like real baseball for the Western Canada league. The Edmonton and Saskatoon teams are playing around the Puget Sound district; Bert Dunn's Hatters are already in Utah; West's Millers are still playing around Los Angeles; the Regina Red Sox are playing exhibition games through the Central league towns and will soon be in Winnipeg for a three game series; and the Calgary Hawks are well on their way north from Alameda, California.

For the first year of real training tips for all the W. C. L. teams and the result will no doubt be manifest before the season has far advanced.

A Calgary sport writer in writing "dope" about the Bronks at Alameda recently printed the statement that Alameda was a "suburb" of Oakland, and soon after received a letter from the secretary of the chamber of commerce of Alameda, pointing out the fact that Alameda was not a "suburb" of Oakland, but a busy, thriving city of 25,000 and "the best lighted city in the world, and the healthiest city in the United States." Some live officials, that guy! Wouldn't he love a Western Canadian clip it over him like that.

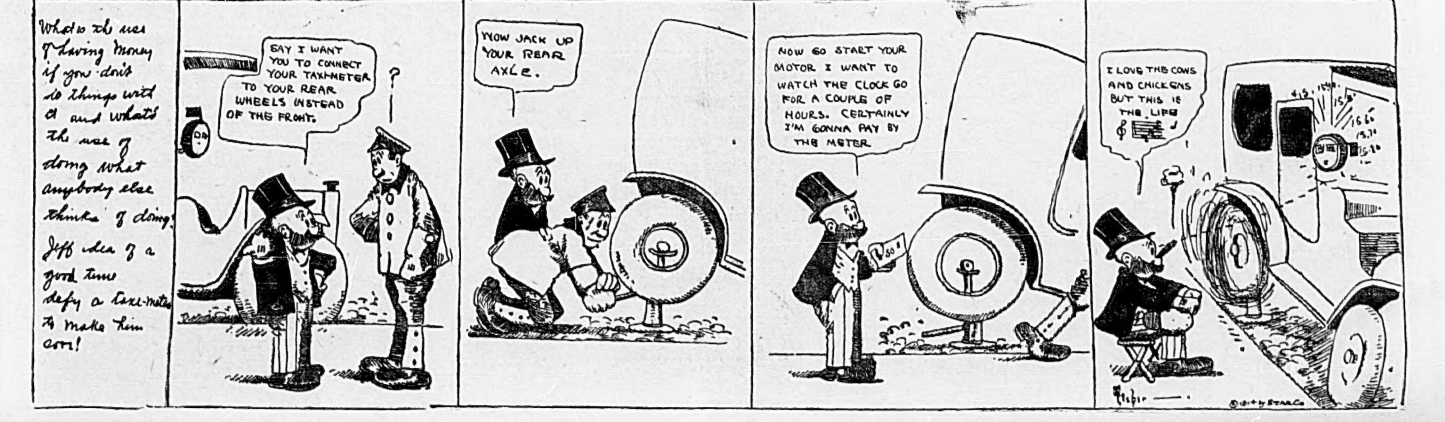

Vancouver, April 20.—The Vancouver club today turned Pitcher Kallio over to the Saskatoon club of the Twilight league. President Brown intends working with Hurley's club this season. He declares he finds Saskatoon very satisfactory to deal with with Saskatoon this year and will turn all surplus material to the Quakers.

"More Sinned against than sinning," says Connie Mack of the great Red Sox. He knew. It takes some sort of man to stand against the adulation of the throng and keep his head erect and his life clean. Toe was not the first to fail, nor will he be the last.

Dudley, the Western Canada league player, was the first man to report at Hamilton. He is a first baseman.

VIGOROUS CAMPAIGN FOR DEVELOPMENT OF LABRADOR ON

London, April 20.—A vigorous campaign for the development of Labrador will be started soon by Dr. Wilfrid George, the intrepid explorer who sailed on the Maurelania yesterday for a lecture of the United States. He said: "I am now devoting my adopted country, the Norway of the American continent. The most important commercial task before me is to start reindeer farms to meet the demand for reindeer meat in Canada. I hope to surpass the meat supplies of Alaska."

"The Canadian government is building two large lagoons on the east coast, whence the frozen reindeer meat will be brought to this country as well. I am also going to work for the preservation of the valuable fur-bearing animals, martens, minks, foxes and seals, which have been hunted almost to extinction."

"For a pleasure trip the southern part of Labrador offers great attractions."

Start Drilling in Week

The Edmonton Industrial association has received a communication from the International Supply company, the firm which is drilling for gas for the association near Viking, to the effect that the machinery is now on the ground and it is expected to be actively at work drilling inside of a week or ten days.
